

Column 4 - Our own mistakes - Page 66 & 67

This was our course. We realized that the people who wronged us were perhaps spiritually sick. Though we did not like their symptoms and the way these disturbed us, they, like ourselves, were sick too. We asked God to help us show them the same tolerance, pity, and patience that we would cheerfully grant a sick friend. When a person offended we said to ourselves, "This is a sick man. How can I be helpful to him? God save me from being angry. Thy will be done."

Referring to our list again. Putting out of our minds the wrongs others had done, we resolutely looked for our own mistakes... Though a situation had not been entirely our fault, we tried to disregard the other person involved entirely... We admitted our wrongs honestly and were willing to set these matters straight.

Where had we been dishonest? (Dishonest to get what I want.)

Where had we been self-seeking and frightened? (Afriad I'll lose what I have or not get what I want, so I did something to them.)
